

National Risk 08

The National Risk Register Conference

National Risk 08

NATURAL EVENTS >> MAJOR INCIDENTS >> MALICIOUS ATTACKS

The National Risk Register Conference

December > 10

Barbican > London

CRISIS RESPONSE

London First

LONDON CHAMBER
COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

IAEM
International Association of Emergency Managers

momentum

BorderResponse
A partnership of Border Security & Resilience

How prepared is your organisation?

As announced in its National Security Strategy, the British Government recently published the National Risk Register. This sets out its assessment of the likelihood and potential impact of a range of different risks that might directly affect the UK.

This is the first time that these risks have been published, and it's aim is to encourage public debate on security and help businesses, organisations and communities to prepare for emergencies.

National Risk 08, which is being held in London on December 10, will explore the National Risk Register, explain its importance to the document's many different audiences, and will promote understanding and active partnerships between these audiences and the government.

This conference will increase community safety and effective business continuity. It will achieve this by identifying and communicating the partnerships and activities organisations must develop to implement their corporate responsibilities to their workforce and investors.

In short, the National Risk Register just makes good business sense.

The conference will be divided into three parts, the first of which will look at the concept of the National Risk Register from the perspective of those who helped to put the document together, along with an outline of today's global threats.

This will be followed by practical examples of why preparedness and business continuity measures are so vital, a look at the legal fall-out if organisations are found wanting in a crisis and advice on reputation management and the media handling.

The last session will focus on preparedness for those risks that are highlighted as particularly acute in the National Risk Register. Experts will examine the myths and realities of pandemic preparedness, building resilience for the future and safety preparations for the 2012 Olympics in the context of the National Risk Register, and Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear preparedness for businesses and organisations.

This high-level conference is organised jointly by Crisis Response Journal and Valentis Bridge Ltd, which is headed by Brett Lovegrove, former Head of Counter Terrorism for the City of London Police. It is supported by London First, which represents the capital's leading employers in key sectors such as financial and business services, property, transport, ICT, creative industries and retail.

The main audience will be ministerial level, the Cabinet Office, Home Office and the strategic end of the business community, as well as CPNI, SOCA, local authorities, emergency services, health authorities, the Department for Transport and Transport for London, the Civil Aviation Authority, utility providers, education authorities and the information assurance industry.

Speakers will be drawn from these stakeholders and will include government level participants, the private sector, the security services, legal representatives and the media.

Bruce Mann
*Director of Civil Contingencies
The Cabinet Office*

Brett Lovegrove
Director, Valentis Bridge Ltd and Former Head of Counter Terrorism, City of London Police

John Tesh
Deputy Director of Capabilities at the Civil Contingencies Secretariat, Cabinet Office

Professor Peeter Lorents
*Head of the R&D Branch,
the NATO Co-operative Cyber Defence Centre of Excellence, Tallinn, Estonia*

Kathryn Holloway
*Crisis Communications Specialist
Press Alert Ltd*

Bob Piggott
*Head of Group Contingency Risk, Global Security and Fraud Risk
HSBC*

Paul Moxness
*Vice President, Corporate Safety and Security
Rezidor*

Mark Scoggins
*Solicitor Advocate
Fisher Scoggins LLP*

John Barradell
*Deputy Chief Executive
Westminster Council*

Hugh McLeod
*Chief Operating Officer
Stirling Assynt (Europe)*

Gordon MacDonald
*Head of Strategic Emergency Planning
Health Protection Agency*

Richard Bingley
*Executive Director, Safer Business
London First*

Dr Karen Reddin
*Deputy Head of Strategic Emergency Planning
Health Protection Agency*

0925	Chair of the day Brett Lovegrove > Director, Valentis Bridge Ltd and Former Head of Counter Terrorism, City of London Police
Session 1 >> What is the National Risk Register?
0930	The background to the National Risk Register and how it will increase community safety and effective business continuity Bruce Mann > Director of Civil Contingencies, The Cabinet Office, UK
1000	What the National Risk Register means for you John Tesh > Deputy Director of Capabilities at the Civil Contingencies Secretariat, Cabinet Office
1030	Al-Qaeda – What Next? Hugh McLeod > COO Stirling Assynt (Europe)
1100	Networking coffee
Session 2 >> Confronting the hazards head-on
1130	Risk and responsibility : A Lawyer's view Mark Scoggins > Solicitor Advocate, Fisher Scoggins LLP
1200	Trial by Media: Surviving the Spotlight Kathryn Holloway > Crisis Communications Specialist
1230	Global risk analysis and preparedness - HSBC's research & experience Bob Piggott > Head of Group Contingency Risk, Global Security and Fraud Risk, HSBC
13.00	Networking lunch

Session 3 >> Preparing for the future
1400	The The Estonia cyber attacks of 2007 Professor Peeter Lorents > Head of the R&D Branch, the NATO Co-operative Cyber Defence Centre of Excellence, Tallinn, Estonia
1430	Pandemics - are we making the right assumptions or preparations? Gordon MacDonald > Head of Strategic Emergency Planning, Dr Karen Reddin > Deputy Head of Strategic Emergency Planning Health Protection Agency
1500	National Risk Register, the local authority perspective John Barradell > Deputy Chief Executive, Westminster Council
1530	Coffee, Tea
1600	The assessment of vulnerabilities of crowded places in the UK Chris Phillips > National Counter Terrorism Security Office (NaCTSO)
1620	When Risk Becomes Reality - Some TRIC=S for Organizing Preparedness Paul Moxness > Vice President, Corporate Safety and Security Rezidor
1640	CBRN preparedness for business Richard Bingley > Executive Director, Safer Business, London First
1655	Q&A discussion panel

Venue >>
Barbican Centre
Silk Street
London
EC2Y 8DS
United Kingdom

National Risk 08

The National Risk Register Conference

Delegate rate >>

Standard Rate	£375 + VAT
London First member discount	£325 + VAT
IAEM member discount	£338 + VAT

Contact >>

Telephone	>>	+44 (0) 1306 876 856
Fax	>>	+44 (0) 8707 621 726
Email	>>	ekendrick@cavamedia.com
Web	>>	NationalRisk.co.uk

